LETTER

Service Letter No. 288B

January 6, 1958

TO: Distributors, Dealers and Owners

SUBJECT: Accessories, Optional Equipment and Modification Kits

MODEL AFFECTED: Apache - PA-23

This letter supersedes Service Letters Nos. 288 dated November 21, 1956 and 288A dated December 13, 1957.

We are pleased to announce the availability of additional modification kits for the Apache. This is in line with our policy of making available to Apache owners improvements which will tend to increase the efficiency of the airplane and also to lessen aircraft maintenance. A brief description indicating the use of these modification kits is as follows:

1. Carburetor Air Heater Modification Kit. The carburetor air heating system has been redesigned to increase the heat of the airflow to the carburetor and a lower manifold pressure loss and is offered for installation on all earlier model Apaches up to Serial No. 23-1151 inclusive. For customer convenience, this modification is available in two separate kits described as follows:
 - a. Carburetor air heater modification kit, part number 754 171, includes new carburetor air boxes, exhaust stack shrouds, carburetor air temperature gauge and all necessary installation parts and installation instructions, and is for use on airplanes Serial Nos. 23-1 to 23-919 inclusive.
 - b. Carburetor air heater modification kit, part number 754 173, includes the same material as Kit Part No. 754 171 less the carburetor air temperature gauge, and is for use on airplanes Serial Nos. 23-920 to 23-1151 inclusive.
2. Split Nose Cowl Modification Kit. The engine nose cowl was redesigned to incorporate a split cowl for the purpose of lessening aircraft maintenance. This improvement allows removal of the cowl without the necessity of removing the propeller and can be adapted to earlier model Apaches in the field. The split nose cowl modification kit, part number 754 177, includes a sufficient amount of material for the modification of one cowl.
3. Cabin Heater Modification Kit. The cabin heater fuel control valve has been redesigned to increase the heat output. This fuel valve is available for installation on earlier model Apaches from Serial No. 23-171 to 23-1242 inclusive. The material required for installation of this fuel control valve is contained in two separate kits due to differences in the cabin heating system on certain model Apaches. Kit Part No. 754 172 is for Apache airplanes Serial No. 23-747 to 23-1242 inclusive and consists only of the fuel control valve and necessary installation parts. Kit Part No. 754 176 is for Apache airplanes Serial Nos. 23-171 to 23-746 inclusive and consists of the fuel control valve plus material for the installation of an outside air inlet to the combustion air blower.
